[X] Please provide a narrative that includes the data types and processes that the IEP teams are utilizing to qualify students for the Alternate Assessments (DLM) in the box below and press Save.

DLM criteria and rubrics are used to identify whether a student is appropriate to be instructed in the Essential Elements as part of the DLM alternate assessment.Teams look at state assessment data, formative and summative assessment data, and the DLM flowchart as they have conversations regarding eligibility for the assessment. We have also added an Adaptive and Functional performance page into Webkidss where student present levels in the areas of adaptive and functional performance can be documented. The message that has been communicated at FHSEC PLC opportunities is that if a student doesn't have any needs in the areas of adaptive and functional performance, they are not appropriate for the DLM. School psychologists and other FHSEC Leadership team members are versed in the DLM criteria and are assisting special education teachers in taking a very close look at the individual criteria and applying student present levels and areas of need to that criteria for determination.

[X] What are the district's next steps to ensure that annually the appropriate test is administered to each student?

FHSEC will continue to provide professional development specific to the DLM identification process, rubric and criteria, including the DLM flowchart at the beginning of every school year, with follow up review throughout the course of the school year.

Based on the data for our district, our LEA needs additional training.
