Based on the data provided in KIAS for disproportionality, our district needs to address disproportionality (A risk ratio greater than 3.0 needs to be addressed.)

[x] Yes [ ] No

If yes, please explain how you will address the disproportionality.

Specifically, science h indicates a disproportionality among our students within the sub-group, Foster Students. We will begin by determining if those students were adequately assessed to determine their need for the DLM. The specifics we will look at is their evaluation and exceptionality determination among cognitive performance. We will also look specifically at their current IEP and past IEPs around progress for goals, ESY qualification, and their curricular modification needs to determine if their need for the DLM is supported.

After answering our first questions about whether the students accurately qualified for the DLM, and then whether their exceptionality and provision of services...we need to further take into account the Least Dangerous Assumption perspective.

The fact that we are disproportionate for Foster Students only in the area of Science indicates that we have a "bubble" of foster students at the high school level, and assuming our internal review justifies their participation in the DLM, we anticipate we will remain disproportionate in this area until these students graduate.

[X] Please provide a narrative that includes the data types and processes that the IEP teams are utilizing to qualify students for the Alternate Assessments (DLM) in the box below and press Save.

Predominantly, we utilize the KSDE DLM Participation Guidelines. Our district ensures that students meet that criteria prior to proposing that a student participates in the DLM at the time of IEP development. Additional data points that typically lead to the flagging of a student needing to participate in the DLM are the student's cognitive performance as measured, adaptive performance as measured, and their curricular needs. The majority of our students participating in the DLM also typically present with a more severe, low incidence disability and are benefitting from a constellation of services or from a specialized classroom setting.

[X] What are the district's next steps to ensure that annually the appropriate test is administered to each student?

A refresher training among special education low incidence teachers, related service providers, and school psychologists to review the DLM Participation Guidelines will be conducted. We will also focus on particular caseloads and if there were questionable situations or red flags reported to us by KSDE.

Based on the data for our district, our LEA needs additional training.
