Please provide a narrative that includes the data types and processes that the IEP teams are utilizing to qualify students for the Alternate Assessments (DLM) in the box below and press Save.

The student IEP teams are utilizing the DLM criteria and participation guidelines, the alternate assessment flow chart, and the DLM rubric in order to determine whether a student is appropriate to be provided instruction via the Essential Elements as part of the DLM assessment. IEP teams also look at state assessment data from the previous years to help make informed decisions.
Within Webkidss within the last year, we have added documentation of Adaptive and Functional Needs where present levels for each student are reported in the areas of adaptive and functional skills which includes self care, communication, social skills, etc.
We continue to communicate to FHSEC providers that if a student does not have documented deficits or needs in the areas of adaptive and functional performance, they are not an eligible candidate to be considered for the DLM Alternate Assessment.

When comparing our 2022-2023 data to this year, we noted that USD 390 experienced an increase in enrollment which led to an increase in students taking the State Assessment. [redacted] This year, based only on the increase in enrollment, we are seeing 1.75% and 1.79% of the eligible population of students taking the DLM. [redacted], yet our enrollment numbers have increased which have allowed our DLM percentage to decrease. We anticipate a decrease in overall enrollment next year which will more than likely negatively impact our DLM percentage and show it going the wrong direction, away from the 1% that the state requires. We will absolutely continue to be aware of this data, even though there is little we can do to impact overall student enrollment numbers which causes the number of students taking the state assessment to fluctuate.

What are the district's next steps to ensure that annually the appropriate test is administered to each student?

FHSEC will continue to provide Professional Development specific to the DLM identification process, rubric and criteria, including the DLM flowchart, at the beginning of every school year, with follow up reviews and guidance being provided throughout the course of the school year.
FHSEC will also being using the 1% threshold fact sheet, in addition to other DLM identification/qualification assistance documents, in order to more fully explain Alternate Assessment in Kansas to new staff. Providing additional PD and explanation has proven critical this year with so many apprentice and waiver teachers in Special Education.
The district will review our policies, practices and procedures for how we identify students for the DLM and place an emphasis on ensuring that we are correctly identifying the correct students male and female for the alternate assessment. When we compare our Alternate Assessment numbers from last year, we are making great strides in reducing the number of students who take the Alternate Assessment. We will continue to shift our focus to ensure there is decreased disproportionality.
District Special Education teachers have been given access to the DLM resources that are currently available on the DLM website for KSDE. The Special Education Coordinators and the School Psychologists for our member districts collaborate with IEP team members at IEP annual review meetings in order to revisit the criteria that must be met to qualify for the DLM Alternate Assessment. They review all documents provided by KSDE associated with the DLM.
FHSEC staff continue to be diligent about reviewing the criteria for the DLM Alternate Assessment at all annual meetings in an effort to move students to the general state assessment.
Professional Development regarding the DLM Alternate Assessment has been provided at multiple PLC opportunities this year and will continue to be provided moving forward. PD will occur in large and small group settings to ensure that special
