[x] Yes [ ] No

If yes, please explain how you will address the disproportionality.

The district will ensure that the students taking the DLM are students who possess the most significant, qualifying disabilities. All students currently tested are in categorical programs, having been fully assessed and reviewed by special education professionals, utilizing the essential elements as the core curriculum. USD 373 has a sizeable minority population but at times when reviewing small sample groups, data can become skewed, not necessarily representing the whole of the student population. Historically, when viewing through this lens, the district has had concerns via other minority groups, illustrating that the district does have sizable populations, but because of the variance of group type indicates the lack of a specified issue.

[X] Please provide a narrative that includes the data types and processes that the IEP teams are utilizing to qualify students for the Alternate Assessments (DLM) in the box below and press Save.

IEP teams utilize the Rubric for Determining Student Eligibility for KS Alternate Assessment for Students with the Most Significant Disabilities. The team uses a variety of IEP data, reports, assessments, evaluations, and standards to determine the need for alternate assessment. Teams do not base DLM qualifications on disability, poor attendance, native language/cultural/economic differences, or English learner status, among a host of other factors. This process is held in high regards with teams collaborating to make legal, accurate, and appropriate determinations and is followed with fidelity.

[X] What are the district's next steps to ensure that annually the appropriate test is administered to each student?

The district will continue to provide professional development to teachers and administrators regarding DLM qualifications. District administration will continue to provide legal and accurate oversight, intervening when necessary. Additionally, the current process for IEP teams will continue to be held in high regards and established fully for implementation.

Based on the data for our district, our LEA needs additional training.
