- [x] Yes
- [ ] No

If yes, please explain how you will address the disproportionality.

In order to address disproportionality, the FHSEC has shared out the Rubric for DLM that is a part of each student's file. Guidance shared with the Leadership team members and certified staff has been that the DLM Rubric will be reviewed annually in detail for those students who are currently taking the alternative assessment, or being considered for the alternative assessment.

The district will review policies, practices and procedures as well as providing training on DLM participation guidelines. The district reviewed data completion for demographics for subgroups within the district SIS. Our goal is to decrease the disproportionality.

District special education teachers have been given access to the DLM resources that are currently available on the DLM website for KSDE. The Special Education Coordinators and the School Psychologists for our member districts collaborate with IEP team members at IEP annual review meetings in order to revisit the criteria to qualify for the DLM.

☐ Please provide a narrative that includes the data types and processes that the IEP teams are utilizing to qualify students for the Alternate Assessments (DLM) in the box below and press Save.

The student IEP teams are utilizing the DLM criteria and participation guidelines, the alternative assessment flow chart and the DLM rubric found both at KSDE and in Webkidss, in order to determine whether a student is appropriate to be provided instruction via the Essential Elements. IEP teams also look at current classroom performance, and past state assessment data from the previous year to help make informed decisions.

☐ What are the district's next steps to ensure that annually the appropriate test is administered to each student?

We continue to communicate to FHSEC providers that if a student does not have documented needs in the area of adaptive and functional performance, they are not an eligible candidate to be considered for the DLM. If the student is participating through inclusion in the general education setting for core instruction, the student is strongly considered for the general assessment within that subject area.

FHSEC will continue to provide Professional Development specific to the DLM identification process, rubrics, and criteria, including the DLM flow chart, at the beginning of each school year., with follow up reviews and guidance being provided throughout the course of the school year. FHSEC will also be using the 1% threshold fact sheet (January 2025), in addition to other DLM identification/qualification assistance documents, in order to ensure understanding of the Alternative Assessment in Kansas to new and returning staff.

Based on the data for our district, our LEA needs additional training.
