

This is a collection of fatality accident synopses provided by the state agencies responsible for school transportation safety and/or accident records for the years indicated. These synopses were taken from the National Loading and Unloading Survey Reports. The methodology of collection and reporting of the synopsis data varied in the early years of the survey, and not all synopses are available for some years. Only those fatality accidents involving school children in or around the loading or unloading areas of a school bus are included in this survey. On-board fatalities are excluded, as are pedestrian-type fatalities that occur when the school bus is not in the near vicinity at the time of the accident.

- Student was struck at the edge of the street by a car driven by an elderly lady who did not see the stopped school bus. The roadway was straight, visibility was ideal, the flashing red lights were on, and no traffic was in view when the girl was discharged from the bus. Witnesses in another car felt the lady was distracted by something inside her car. Both the victim and the driver became aware of the crisis at the instant. The child ran toward the edge of the road and the driver swerved to the right. (12-year-old girl)
- Bus approaching stop to pick up student. Car approaching from opposite direction, so bus driver withheld stop-arm to allow car to pass. Student, however, ran out in front of the car and was hit. (6-year-old girl)
- Student stepped out of her father's car, walked around the front and ran into the street to reach the loading area of her bus, was struck by another bus traveling opposite direction. (6-year-old girl)
- School bus was stopped on fast shoulder, unloading school children. Victim's parent was parked on gravel area approximately 19 feet from shoulder, waiting to pick up children. Three (3) students had stepped off the bus and were walking to the waiting vehicle. A non-contact vehicle approached bus from rear and stopped. A pickup truck and trailer following non-contact vehicle attempted to stop but was exceeding safe speed and lost control, leaving roadway onto right shoulder, skidding about 64 ft., striking parked auto, continuing on striking two (2) students and then sideswiped school bus. (Injured 13-year-old, fatal to 5-year-old girl)
- Special education student walked completely around the bus, around back to front and was run over by her bus. (4-year-old girl)
- School bus driver stated she had slowed at route pickup point, student not present not in sight, so continued on. Driver picked up another student at regular route stop, then was returning in opposite direction and noticed absent student waiting at first stop. Driver activated yellow warning flashers as the bus approached student, noticed oncoming car at same time. Approaching car not traveling at excessive speed, but it was apparent it would not stop. Child was unaware of approaching car, started across the road before the red light came on and before being instructed to cross. Child was struck at about same time bus came to complete stop. (5-year-old boy)

- Student dropped something in front of the bus as she was going to the sidewalk. She went back to pick up what she had dropped. The bus driver did not see her come back and rolled over her when pulling from the stop. (6-year-old female)

Kansas leads the world in the success of each student.

- Student was killed when a motorist ran the stop arm and lights of the school bus as it was loading children. (5-year-old male)
- Student struck by vehicle which failed to stop for “red lights”. Student walking across the road in front of stopped school bus when passing vehicle failed to stop for “red lights.”
- Student crossing the street in front of a stopped school bus – bent over in front of bus to pick up some papers he had dropped – run over by the school bus. (Male)
- School bus stopped at a driveway to let two brothers off the bus. They exited the bus and had to cross the highway. One boy crossed and the other dropped something, bent over to pick it up. The bus driver was scolding other students in the bus because of a disturbance of some kind. She then looked at the driveway and saw the one boy walking up the driveway and thinking the second boy had ran to the house, she started forward running over the boy (7-year-old male)
- A girl and her older brother depart the school bus at their home. The girl had her arms full of snow boots, etc. She was run over by the right rear duals of the bus as it moved forward. The driver stated that he saw the girl and her brother on the left side of the bus after they crossed the road. All of the physical evidence was moved before the local law enforcement officer arrived and there were no other witnesses. The brother did not even see what happened. We can only guess what might have happened. 1) she ran back behind the bus to pick up something she had dropped; 2) she never crossed the road and either dropped something and crawled or slipped under the bus. (8-year-old female)
- Student departed the school bus on the trip home. Driver lost sight of the student who had to cross the street. Student was struck by right rear wheels of the bus. (12-year-old male)
- School bus stopped to load passenger on east side of the roadway. The normal practice included loading a student from the west side of the road at this same location. The driver picked up the student from the east shoulder and apparently did not see the student coming from his residence which was 155 feet off the west shoulder. The driver, after loading the one student, proceeded north. The student coming from the residence on the west was accompanied by his sister, ran out in front of the school bus. The student got hung up under the bus and was dragged .6 of a mile, where the student fell out from under the bus after it made a right turn onto another roadway. The driver did not know that she had struck the student and proceeded on to her destination at the elementary school. There were 32 students on the bus at the time and none of them saw the student come from the residence and go out across the highway to board the bus (5-year-old male)
- The school bus stopped to discharge a pupil at the school bus stop. He crossed in front of the bus (red lights were on and other cars were stopped behind it) and was hit by a passing motorist (car from opposite direction) running the lights and knocking him 50 to 60 feet through the air. (5-year-old male)
- The school bus stopped to discharge pupils at the school bus stop. The student discovered she had dropped something in front of the bus and went back to retrieve it. The driver's attention was diverted to a problem in the bus. The driver saw the student's brother in the yard and assumed his sister was in the house. The driver proceeded, striking the girl with the rear dual wheel. (6-year-old female)
- The school bus stopped to discharge pupils at the school bus stop. The students got off and stood to the right side of the bus. The next thing the driver remembers seeing is the boy lying in the street. (8-year-old male)
- The school bus stopped to discharge pupils at school bus stop. The student got off with her sister. The driver saw both girls cross the street and walk into the yard. The driver's attention was diverted to the back of the bus and the girl went to the front of the bus to pick up something she dropped. The driver proceeded and hit the student with the front bumper running over her. (6-year-old female)
- Bus stopped with red flashing lights operating. Several started to cross in front of the bus. The driver noticed a vehicle fast approaching from the rear and passing several stopped cars and another school bus that also had the red lights flashing. Bus driver honked and motioned children back out of the traffic lane. The vehicle struck and killed one child. (10-year-old male)

- Student exited school bus and crossed the road to the opposite berm. A tractor trailer truck did not stop for the legally stopped school bus, passed the bus on the left, ran off the road and struck the student. (10-year-old male)

- The school bus driver stopped and discharged three students. The driver said that all three were observed clearing the front of the bus, and at that time she started forward and felt and heard a thump, and immediately stopped. The driver did not see the victim in front of the school bus. A witness driving a second school bus behind the fatality vehicle stated she saw two students clear the front of the bus and observed the victim on the ground under the stop arm of 1st school bus. She stated she saw the school bus drive over the victim with the left rear tires. (9-year-old male)

Kansas leads the world in the success of each student.

- The bus approached street-side loading area at Jr. High School. Students lined up waiting for buses to arrive. One student was moving toward the street as buses pulled into loading area. Student tripped over another pupil's foot and fell beneath the right rear duals of the bus and was killed. (8-year-old male)
- Bus stopped in subdivision to load several students. Substitute driver, distracted by other students on the bus, failed to see student crossing in front of the bus. Driver proceeded, striking student with front wheel. (6-year-old male)
- Bus stopped to unload students on rural road. Red flashing warning lights and stop arm were operating properly. Five vehicles stopped behind the bus. Vehicle approaching from rear, passed all five vehicles and the school bus, striking student crossing road. (8-year-old male)
- The school bus had just picked up two children at a school bus stop and started to leave. The pedestrian was late for the school bus and ran in front of the moving school bus. The pedestrian was knocked down and went under the vehicle, the right rear tires ran over the pedestrian. The driver did not see the pedestrian. (5-year-old male)
- The student was on the way home and was struck by the rear of the school bus after exiting. (5-year-old male)
- Student was on trip home from school and was struck by the front of the school bus.
- Student checked traffic before crossing the two-lane roadway on trip home. An oil truck came over the crest of a hill from behind and could not stop on the down grade. The truck driver passed the standing bus on the left and swerved back into the right lane to avoid the waiting car facing him. In doing this the truck struck the boy who apparently froze in panic. (10-year-old male)
- Three students, including the victim disembarked from the bus and were playing close to the right side of the bus when the driver started forward. The victim fell under the bus in front of the right rear dual wheels. (5-year-old female)
- The driver of a passenger vehicle failed to see a stopped school bus with stop sign and all lights in operation due to fog. The vehicle struck the right rear of the bus in a glancing blow at 45 mph and continued down the right side striking two boys just outside the entrance door of the school bus. One student died approximately 12 hours after the accident, the second survived. (9-year-old male)
- The student was fatally injured when he fell into the rear wheel area of the school bus as it pulled up to a loading point in a housing development. (5-year-old male)
- Fatality occurred on trip home, struck by the front of the school bus. (6-year-old)

- The school bus stopped to discharge passengers at the bus stop. The student exited the school bus, the operator closed the door, assumed that the child was walking to the rear of the bus. At the same point, the child turned and walked around to the front of the bus, the operator not looking in the front mirror, which would enable him to see the child, began to move forward. As the bus moved forward, the child was struck and killed. (6-year-old male)
- Student was discharged from the bus. The driver paid no attention, child went to retrieve an object that rolled under the bus. Right rear wheels ran over student. (5-year-old female)

- Substitute driver trying to control discipline in the rear of the bus, thinking that the student had already crossed in front of the bus, started in motion and struck the student (female)
- Bus driver stated that four students departed the bus, three students went to the right and one crossed in front of the bus. The driver claimed that she did not see the student, started the bus in motion and struck the student. (female)
- The school bus driver was making the first afternoon unloading stop, with about 20 students exiting the bus. He waited about 2 minutes for the students to clear the area before he moved the bus. He checked all mirrors and proceeded to pull away when he felt a bump and realized that he had run over something. An investigation revealed that the student had apparently dropped some school papers in front of the bus and ran back to get them. Bending over, she was out of sight of the driver. (6-year-old female)
- The driver stated the bus was stopped to discharge school children. Students were discharged from the bus, the door closed, checked mirrors, moved into a right turn, and after nearly completing the turn, had a feeling to stop the bus. The bus's right rear duals had run over the student. It was the student's birthday, and due to her preoccupation with activities planned, she proceeded into the street into the path of the school bus. (6-year-old female)
- Driver approached loading zone at the school to pick up students. He was about two minutes late, and as he approached the curb there were students standing in the parking lot and on the lawn. Some of the students started to approach the bus and there was some pushing and shoving as the students tried to jockey for position in line. The driver applied the brakes and brought the bus to a stop. Hearing a scream, he looked in the right lower mirror and saw someone lying in front of the front tire. He backed the bus up and got off to render aid. (16-year-old female)
- A passenger vehicle was passing a school bus disabled in the roadway when the victim exited the bus and walked around the front of the bus and stepped into the path of the passenger vehicle. This occurred on the trip to school. (9-year-old female)
- Driver of the bus advised that she had let the child off at the regular stop. She advised the student to stay on the sidewalk with his skateboard, then checked all mirrors, saw nothing and then proceeded. The next thing she knew other motorists were telling her to stop, she did and got off the bus and observed the child laying on the roadway. (8-year-old male)

Kansas leads the world in the success of each student.

- A 5-year-old girl had unloaded from the bus. The bus driver did not see her as she crossed in front of the bus. The bus moved forward knocking the student down with the left front of the bus. As the bus continues moving forward, the student was struck and killed by the left rear dual wheels.
- An 8-year-old girl was crossing the street to board the bus. The bus was stopped with the stop arm and eight-way lights activated. An oncoming vehicle did not stop, and the student was struck and killed.
- A 9-year-old boy had unloaded from the school bus. The student dropped a football and crawled under the bus to retrieve it. The student was struck and killed by the right rear dual wheels of the bus.
- A 15-year-old boy had unloaded from the school bus. The stop arm and eight-way lights were activated. A semi driver struck a properly stopped vehicle behind the bus and swerved to the right. The student was struck and killed by the semi.
- A 15-year-old girl was in the front yard of her residence walking to board the bus. The stop arm and eight-way lights were activated. An approaching vehicle from the front swerved to the right and passed properly stopped vehicles, crossed back onto the roadway between the front of the bus and the stopped vehicles. The vehicle struck and killed the student in her yard prior to striking the student's residence.

This survey is provided annually to the school transportation industry in an effort to alert individuals and organizations of the dangers involved in the loading and unloading of school children. Fatalities continue to occur at the bus stop, caused by a variety of circumstances and errors on the part of the school bus driver or a passing motorist. It points out the continuing need for forceful, advanced instruction to school bus drivers, and the need to increase our efforts to thoroughly inform the driving public about the requirements of the school bus stop law.
